Sometimes, Anyway

LEGAL TO 'SASS' A TOWN OFFICIAL

It is legal to 'sass' a Town Official in the Town of Wilmington - at least sometimes it is legal. A jury, in Lowell, so decided Monday afternoon, at 2:30 pm.

This doesn't mean that John Citizen should hie himself down to the Town Hall and get in line to exchange words with (for instance) the Tax Collector or the Principal Assessor. Such a course of action might not pay off.

But one Wilmington resident who told a Town Official what he thought was completely freed from any financial responsibility of his thoughts by a Middlesex County jury. That man is Mike Elia, of West Street, one of the two brothers who own Elia's Country Market in North Wilmington, and other real estate in Wilmington. Their property had been tied up by an attachment of $100,000 for over two years, until the jury verdict was given, Monday.

All Smiles

Harold W. Foley, operator of the Shamrock Liquor Stores of Wilmington and Haverhill is all smiles. And so are some of the gentlemen of the New Hampshire State Liquor Commission, and the Mass ABC.

A price war that has been going on for some months has been settled, and Foley regards it as a major point, in interstate commerce.

The New Hampshire State Liquor Commission, last October, announced increases in its liquor prices, to become effective in November. It then advertised, in daily newspapers, in several of the Massachusetts dailies, with full page ads, that their prices were lower than those in Massachusetts.

The Shamrock stores then advertised, again using full page ads, in New Hampshire, to encourage the people of the Granite State to do their purchasing in the Old Bay

State. The combat continued until a week ago. On Monday of this week there was a peace conference, in Concord, NH. It was a three-way conference with officials of the NH board and the Mass board, and Mr Foley taking part.

They agreed that New Hampshire would do no advertising in the Old Bay State, and that the Shamrock Stores would do no advertising in the Granite State.

If the reader should see a man walking down the street wreathed in smiles, the chances are that his name is Harold W. Foley.

And so the jury thought about Mr. Romano.

No extra hours at Post Office

There will be no extra service at the US Postoffice in Wilmington this season. Extra service is being given only in towns and cities of over 100,000 population according to John Kenney, officer in charge.

The postoffice stayed open a little after noon last Saturday because of the crowd waiting for service, but it is scheduled to close at noon this coming Saturday.

The Wilmington postoffice, meanwhile, is enjoying the busiest month in its history. For the first time the postoffice has had over $100,000 in sales in one month, as of December 12th., with three fifths of the month still to go. Mr. Kenney ascribes a large part of the

Water Rates Go Up Jan 1

And a Partridge in a ....

The Wilmington Re-Development Authority plan for converting thirty acres of waste land off Eames Street into an area of industrial development took a major step, Monday night, when plans were presented to the Board of Selectmen and informally approved by the Selectmen.

Robert Leahy and Rene LaRivee made the presentation, and requested that there be an article in the warrant for the annual Town Meeting, which would allow the WRA to proceed on land taking by eminent domain.

Leahy and LaRivee recommended that all the land be combined into one parcel; that the two homes on Cook Hill be exempted from the eminent domain proceedings; that the land be arranged into four parcels as shown by one of the maps submitted, and that a portion of parcel 1, a 30 acre parcel, now zoned for residences, be rezoned for industry.

The total cost of assembly of the land would be about $300,000, they told the Selectmen. They had already spent $58,000 of this in the planning stage, of which one quarter is to be paid by the town and three quarters by the state.

However, on a 'land assembly' plan, as had been recommended by the selectmen and finance com-

NO, IT'S NOT A PARTRIDGE - It is a Pheasant. And it is not in a Pear Tree, it is in the kitchen window of the Coombs home, 434 Middlesex Avenue. Further more, it is quite dead - a sort of a suicide.

This is the scene that greeted Corydon Coombs, when he got up Saturday morning. He didn't tell the Town Crier what he did with the bird, after he got it down.

PRESENTING THE NEW WATER RATES: With the minimum price to be $7.50 a quarter, in the homes of Wilmington, Chairman Arnold W Blake of the Board of Water Commissioners (nearest the camera) is shown as he told the Board of Selectmen of the new rates, Monday evening. With him is Vincent McLain, also a member of the Board of Water Commissioners.

Blake is an Engineer, and McLain an Accountant.

mittee, the costs would be only about $200,000, to be divided into half state and half town costs, after the state had approved a plan which has to go through a public hearing.

Land in the area already owned by the town is estimated to be worth $25,500, the selectmen were told, and this would be used to offset the town's share of the cost.

Leahy said that the town must first appropriate the money, and that the state's share would be repaid on a twenty year basis, but that the town would have to pay the interest charges.

There would have to be a bond issue, he said.

Selectmen Boylen and MacDonald got busy with their pencils, and then pointed out that the interest on the bonds would be about $260

Mrs Fred Smith

Sued for $125,000

Mrs Fred Smith of 73 Concord Street faces the possibility of a law suit in the Superior Court at Cambridge, with $125,000 damages being asked.

Abe Glickstein, a businessman of Haverhill, a year ago last September made an agreement with Mrs Smith for the purchase of her land, and paid her a $100 'binder'.

The agreement was that Mr. Glickstein would pay $65,000 for all her land, and her home, easterly of Concord Street, if the said land were rezoned to industrial by the Town Meeting. The agreement was to run for 200 days.

Instead of rezoning to Industrial the Town Meeting rezoned to General Business. There were at the time rumors that an oil company sought to locate a 'tank farm' at the site. Mr Glickstein was talking

And a little Salt

There was a time, not too long ago, when the Selectmen of Wilmington would get telephone calls because the hill at the Shawsheen Avenue bridge had not been sanded, after a snow storm.

The Highway Department kept a pile of sand where the Police Station is now located, on Adelaide Street, and when the roads were really icy some sand would be loaded in a truck and off it would go, with a couple of men with shovels to spread the sand where needed.

A car driver was expected to be careful in those days. Only the hills, and the corners of the highways would be sanded.

Last weekend there was a five inch snowstorm. Comparatively speaking, it was a mild thing.

As of Tuesday afternoon the Highway Department had spread 600 tons of sand and salt, with their mechanical monsters, and still the telephone was ringing. Streets, the complaints said, needed more sand.

Times have changed - and the only people who seem to benefit are the owners of the car washes, who get paid to remove that salt which comes with the sand which is being spread on the roads of Wilmington.

Olson Street

A few weeks ago the gentleman who is in charge of the Wilmington Postoffice suggested that steps be taken to renovate the No Parking signs in front of the postoffice. It was a good idea, and should improve traffic conditions considerably.

The postoffice department is a mess, mainly from poor planning. Two things can be done.

The Federal government should widen the entrance of the parking lot from 20 to 24 feet. That is the minimum width for today's traffic. Every day there are traffic tie-ups, as motorists, quite properly hesitate to turn into the parking lot as a car is coming out. Danger of collision does exist, and the motorists recognize it even if the US government does not.

The Wilmington Board of Selectmen should regulate the parking on Olson Street, which is just north of the postoffice. Parking should be limited to 15 minutes, and the police should then be instructed to enforce that limit. This could accomplish as much good as widening the entrance to the parking lot.

Even if Olson Street is just a gravelled way, it is an accepted street in Wilmington. It is used today only by all day parkers who used the MBTA to go to Boston. Some of these are Wilmington residents and some come from as far away as New Hampshire.

The Nickle-Nursing Board of Selectmen are keenly aware of the fact that Wilmington's share of the MBTA deficit is determined by how many patrons board the MBTA trains and busses in Wilmington. A few weeks ago they forbade the MBTA from putting up signs pointing to the Wilmington depot. Each New Hampshire car, parked on Olson Street or elsewhere, helps to increase the MBTA deficit, and Wilmington's share thereof. (But this isn't an argument about the value of the MBTA, gentle reader).

So, if the Nickle-Nursers were to regulate the parking on Olson Street they would be accomplishing three things.

1. They would be chasing (perhaps) patrons away from the MBTA.
2. They most certainly would make more parking available to the post office patrons.
3. They would also be relieving the traffic congestion, on Church Street.

Dear Sirs:

I placed an advertisement in yesterday's edition of the Crier in an attempt to find my Labrador Retriever.

Two calls were received in response to my advertisement. Both concerned animals with deformed ears!

This was probably due to the fact that my reference to the age of the dog as 'one YEAR' was misprinted.

Sincerely

 thousand, which they thought was ridiculous. Leahy and LaRivee agreed, in fact they were delighted at this turn of the discussion. It led to the possibility of the town doing all the financing, which, the two men said, would hasten things along.
 They already have a number of good bona-fide offers and inquiries about the land, the two men told the Selectmen, and LaRivee said the return on the investment could be made in six years, and possibly in three.
 This brought the discussion to a point where everyone was wondering if the town would appropriate $200,000 in one appropriation.
 Everyone grinned at the humor of the situation, since this represents nearly $2 on the tax rate. Boylen said that 'if we can appropriate, do it, and sell it, and that will be great!'

Increase in Water Rates
 Water Rates in Wilmington are to be increased, as of the first of January.

Arnold Blake and Vincent McLain, of the Board of Water Commissioners, told the Selectmen in Monday's meeting that they were

YOUR Pharmacist SPEAKS

By Louie
 Only about half a century has passed since the word 'vitamin' came into our vocabulary.

The term was invented by a Pole named Casimir Funk, working in London during the years just before the First World War.

It was combined from two terms -- the first meaning life, and the second referring to a chemical substance.

Today it is known that the vitamins are not 'amins' but they are, of course, necessary to life. Actually vitamins are chemical substances whose importance is recognized more by what happens when they are absent than when they are present.

Their presence in the diet may mean the difference between abundant health and just ordinary vitality.

There are a variety of vitamin supplements available at SILVER LAKE PHARMACY, 52 Main St. Complete prescription service. Tel. 658-4617. Sundry Dept. includes candy, cosmetics & greeting cards. Open 9-10 EVERY day.

reluctant to do this, but it had to be done.

It will be, they said, the second time this has been done since the Water Department started in 1927. The only other increase was in 1960.

Blake told the Selectmen that the Water Department would have to borrow money for a new pumping station and water mains in North Wilmington, and with the current rate of interest the Water Department figured it could just barely squeak by, except that they had other expenses facing them.

There has to be a cleaning of one of the town's standpipes, and there has to be a cement re-lining of many miles of water main in town, which, during the past 30 years, have accumulated rust.

The Water Department needed, he said, a 25% increase.

This, for a home, would mean a charge of $7.50 minimum per quarter, for 1500 gallons of water.

George Boylen wanted to know about the rates for industry. Quite a long discussion ensued.

For large users the cost is $2.25 per 1500 gallon minimum, he was told. The reason was that only large pipes were used, instead of many small ones, and the industry costs were met promptly.

The water rates, and the formula for figuring them, Blake said, were based on the methods approved by the New England water rates. Boylen continued to persist that the cost was unfair to the resident owner, since industry was the cause of the increased gallonage that had to be pumped.

Blake then announced that there would be an additional charge on industry. The Town of Wilmington is now going to assess the industrial plants for their fire prevention systems, for which the town has to maintain an adequate pressure. This, he said, would increase the costs to the industrial users.

TM Sterling Morris, reviewing the rates, said that the Board of Water Commissioners had done 'extremely well'.

The conversation changed to the proposed purchase of some of the Jensen farm, in North Wilmington. The State Board of Health, Blake said, recommended that the towns own land 200 feet around shallow wells, such as Wilmington has, and a 400 foot radius from a driven well.

The land in question was already restricted by the Board of Health, Blake said - 'so why buy it?'

Chairman Banda said that there was no telling what the future could bring. To him the Hatch Act was neither reliable nor predictable.

He was of the opinion that the town should buy the land, and protect itself against the future.

The Town Manager was instructed to prepare an article to this effect for the annual Town Meeting.

No Hatch Act
 Angus Suggs of Shawsheen Avenue had a tale of woe for the Selectmen.

The course of the brook which crosses under Shawsheen Ave between his home and Hopkins St. had been altered, because of the regrading for the new school on Shawsheen Avenue, and the water was being dumped in his year and cellar. He was being flooded out.

Suggs told the Selectmen that he had been contacting various town officials, and the General Contractor for the new school, and he was getting no where.

TM Morris said it was up to the Permanent Building Committee, that they were in charge.

Suggs told the Selectmen that he had called up the chairman of the PBC, even before he called the TM, and that the chairman didn't even have the courtesy to call him back.

Bruce MacDonald recommended a letter through the Board of Selectmen to the PBC. He further recommended that the school be not accepted, on its completion date in February, until the drainage question had been cared for.

Chairman Banda, with questions, then developed that there had been no Hatch Act Hearing, for the stream, as is required by law.

'The situation stinks' he said.

Fred F. Cain
 Rep. Fred F. Cain made a very optimistic report on the Highway Program for Wilmington.

The most startling was that the State DPW is studying the situation in South Wilmington, Lowell Street to the Woburn Line, and Route 93, with the aid of a computer.

Mr. Cain did not know where the computer was, but he was certain that only four such problems were being studied by computer in all of Massachusetts, and the south Wilmington problem was one of those four.

Rep. Cain had papers for the Selectmen to sign, that would keep intact the monies already set aside by County and State for the new Route 129 bridge, for next year. $150,000 has now been allocated he said, toward costs, and he believed that it would end up with the state and Federal government paying all the costs, and the town none. The $150,000 could then be used, he said, for the new section of Route 129, from the bridge, and northerly of Wilmington Square to the junction of Lowell and Main Streets or thereabouts.

Speaking of the Lowell Street project, Cain felt that the state would absorb the land costs at Woburn and Lowell Streets, thus freeing the reserve funds from the County for other projects. He was quite optimistic.

He had papers for the Selectmen to sign, to keep funds reserved for this purpose, and the papers were signed. The deadline was Dec. 31.

Speaking of the intersection of Lowell and Woburn streets, Cain said that if the state did the work there would be an eighty foot circle, but that he had an 'oral acceptance' of a proposal for a sixty foot circle, which is all that the Selectmen want.

Mr. Miceli wanted to see the plans for the new bridge over the railroad, 'the 129 Bridge'. He was told that, while the surveys had been made, the engineering work was just started. The project work had been moved to Boston, to get it completed, he said.

Other Business

The Board unanimously denied an application from Lawrence Lewis, address not stated, for a Jack-in-The-Box (drive in restaurant) on Main Street, near the Gardner Building.

Bruce MacDonald made the motion. He told the other members that he knew of this type of building before becoming a Selectman, and that the board was getting 'the cart before the horse'.

(The building is already under construction, Ed.)

Francis Burke of 15 Country Club Road in Stoneham and John Webster of 151 Foundry Street Wakefield made application to remove fill from a site on Andover Street. It was referred to the Town Manager and Town Engineer for more information.

A communication was received from the Federal government (AA) regarding the extension of the runway at the Tew-Mac Airport in Tewksbury. 15 multi-engined planes and 100 single engined ones were to use the runway, with an anticipation of 6000 planes monthly within a five year period. The answer has to be prepared before January 15th.

It was referred to the TM. The Finance Committee is at work with the Board of Selectmen on evaluating the needs for a purchasing agent for the Town of Wilmington. Mrs. Drew said it was an excellent idea, and had been needed for years.

The TM said that since it was in his province, he would like to be sure that the public schools were included, and MacDonald recommended that the subject 'be pursued'.

Banda was not 100% enthusiastic. He could foresee a situation in which some person could get the job 'with tenure' and the town could 'be stuck'. Future discussions are to be had.

New Business

Mrs. Drew reported that she had received many calls on rusty water and on the chemical plant hearing of last week. Speaking of two streets which are scheduled to be in the annual town meeting for construction under the 'betterment plan' she said she wanted to be certain that the water mains were large enough, before the new surface is put in.

Miceli reported that a Mrs. Flore, who lives off Dorchester St. couldn't get out, because her street had not been plowed. The lady had been told, Miceli said, by the Town Hall, to 'send a letter'.

Miceli commented on the 1969 Ford used by the police being 'wrecked up' on Sunday night. The TM said it was true.

MacDonald commented on the manhole covers on Middlesex Ave. He had just driven over them, he said. The TM said that there were two which would have to be 'lifted' in the spring. MacDonald also wanted to know when the Reading Light was going to get around to moving the light poles on Shaw-sheen Avenue.

George Boylen asked that a police officer be detailed for a 30 day study, with an additional 15 day grace period, for a report on the drug situation in Wilmington.

Commenting on the state wide situation, Boylen said it was hard to believe that Wilmington was an 'island' with no problems.

The question was referred to the Town Manager by unanimous vote.

Be: la commented on the lack of Christmas lighting. The TM said he would like to light the Common, if he had the power, and there was conversation about the number of light bulbs stolen. Boylen said it could be done, since the holiday was both a Jewish and a Christian one.

Increased Charges

Town Manager Sterling Morris made the Selectmen squirm in their seats as he read a list of increased charges to the town, for 1970, from the State, charges which are mandatory, and will have to be paid.

It was impossible to project the entire cost increase, he said, but the report from the Town Treasurer was that the town would have increased costs, so far, of $182 thousand, with the only cost that seemed to be going down being that of sewer charges.

Unless the situation changes in the last 12 days of December, Morris told the Selectmen, and the money was 'made up' (by the state) the prospect was that the 'estimated income' to the town (from state sources) would be wiped out, and the 'free cash' position of the town in the annual town meeting would be seriously jeopardized.

He read a list: Retirement contributions, Middlesex County, up from $75,000 to $86,000. County Government Tax, up from $75,000 to $101,000; Hospital Tax up from $2,000 to $5800; State Recreation Tax up from $10,605 to $18,949; Sewer Tax, down from $55,000 to $46,000; MBTA Costs, $4800 in 1968, now up to $32,000 - with the railroad users charge not yet in the figures..

Another increase would be in Court Judgements. No figure was possible at this time but there were a large number of cases on tax abatements before the courts.

The meeting then went into executive session for a long discussion with five members of the Wilmington Fire Department.

LINDA LEE SQUIRES

A June wedding is planned.

Nosey Nancy

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208, Wilmington or call 657-7141, and after five, 658-4865. If I'm not there, then I'll call you!

And a Happy Birthday with congratulations and love to Henry Porter, who did that long and loyal service for the US PO in Wilmington and now works with us at the TC...He says 'I turn a new decade today, NN!' So we couldn't guess which one... but we do know this...hope this Chick is that spry when she hits that same decade....So, cards to Henry, there Gals, either in care of the TC, or Columbia Street in this Town! May you have many more, Henry!

And thank you to that certain gentleman on the Board of Selectmen that paid attention to what this Chick had to say on the social situation in Ye Olde Towne...We really are indebted!

There's a black cat, solid-type male that wandered into the Backman home on Glen Road this week. If any of you are missing your good luck charm, please call Nita at 657-7301.

Cards to Mrs Andrew May of 35 Glen Road this week. She is in the hospital for some research

Rev and Mrs John Dunnack, of assistant pastorship at the Methodist Church, had a lovely open house on Sunday afternoon for the Parish. My, is that Mrs Dunnack ever talented, what with the decorations, cookies, and gown all home made. It was a lovely time, and we all did enjoy it immensely.

Big Daddy says you are not using FISH to your best advantage! Seems last week one cold morning a chick in No WII got herself locked out of her car and couldn't get to work...and Big Daddy says she could have called FISH cause that was an emergency...So remember, 657-7778.

Got an interesting piece of correspondence this week: 'Dear Nosey Nancy, As a regular reader of the Town Crier, I can't understand someone who is supposed to have some sort of education having the disrespect to call the Congregational Church the 'Congo'. Certainly if I was a member of that church, I would no longer read the Town Crier and certainly not your column which so often make reference to it as the 'Congo'. Does it take too much space to mention it as it should be, namely, the Congregational Church? Sincerely Mrs Catherine Hardy'

(Well, now, Catherine, sorry if I offended you....This Gal comes from a long line of Congregationalists...like eight generations, and really didn't mean to offend anyone...Pop being a Deacon all of his life that I can remember, and Mom the president of the Woburn District, and this Gal herself a SS Teacher for many years and a director of City Missionary Society Camps for a good many years...In fact, she didn't know what a Methodist was until she came to this Town, well, that is hardly....So, you see, it was just a little fun that backfired as far as you are concerned I guess, since we've often referred to it as the Congo since we were wee small kids...Sorry about that, but we in all probability will do it again when we swing into our own lingo, so if you don't like it do us a favor, and skip that part? Thanks!)

Funny that that should arrive on Monday am when we had just had such exhorting calls from the members of the Forest St CONGREGATIONAL in their elation about finding a new preacher or should we call him minister for their church. Seems that the Reverend Kenneth M Savage has accepted their call for a pastor. He is graduated from North eastern university, received a BD from Gordon College and graduated from Dallas Theological Seminary where he received his Ph M Degree and has various New England pastorates for the past 25 yrs. His wife Ruth and he were missionaries in China for two-and-a-half years under the China Inland Missions.

Congratulations, Forest Street! We are most anxious to hear Dr Savage and are you ever fortunate....and We are tickled to death we could be instrumental in this! Keep up the good work! This Gal is convinced you are 'where it's at' as the Clan says!

Yarn this week from Mrs..... George O'Brien, thanks a lot, and those Junior Gal Scouts, Troop 389, under the leadership of Mrs Clare Olson, all 21 of them, earned the money each one for a skein of yarn and donated it....Aren't those kids just great to do this and this time of year, when they are all scrimping and scraping to help with Sants? Those are our kind of young 'uns! Thanks a bunch, there, kids!

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Patrick Flynn of Andover. They had a small daughter Patricia Ann on December 13. Mrs is the former Virginia Bryn of 16 Shawsheen Ave in Wilmington and is Nellie's niece (And she might as well be the grandmother. You should see the sweaters and stuff that gal has made for that baby! She says, 'My niece's baby is beautiful! Bet she is, Nellie, and congratulations to you both!)

Now from those boys! Dec 5, 1969 'Dear Nancy, Here I am writing this letter in the gunners seat of my M60 tank: I just finished reading your column, and got a big kick out of Dave Smalldge's poem! I hope you make it home for Christmas, Dave. I won't be, but after Christmas, it'll be short (118) days.

'Congratulations on making Corporal Wayne.

'I'll be going up for Buck Seargent this month sometime, but before I make it, I have to go in front of a Board, and they decide if I'm qualified for Seargent.

'We are in the field once again For the past 34 hours, we have been on ORTs (Operational Readiness Tests). We will be supporting Infantry battalions for the next two weeks. Then we will be at home base for Christmas.

'That's about it for this time. Keep up the good work, Nancy. Read your column all the time! Sp/4 Richard A Kennison, APO 1/64th ARMOR, APO New York 09031. (Thanks Dick for the note and have good holidays. Will be looking forward to seeing you when you get here. See Tommy often on the Skidoo run with the Boys)

Now Amy Farrell writes: 'Dear Nosey Nancy, I thought you might like to hear the wonderful news--my brother Paul returned from Vietnam. He looks very good, but he lost twenty pounds during the past year, because of the tropical heat. You are a link between people here and the young men in Vietnam. Thank you and a Merry Christmas. Keep it up! Yours truly, Amy Farrell'

(Thanks to you, Amy for the thoughtfulness of your note and the kind words. We are so glad that Paul is home. Please ask him to drop in to see us during these holidays, and you come with him...O.K. Meanwhile, have a great time, I know you will!)

Meanwhile, back at the HUT things are really rocking...Choag arrived from Ft Lewis on Friday night, and the #3,4, and 5 had arrived bag and baggage six hours earlier, so things are really humming...In fact, sometimes in the midst of all of those six footers the girls and I just look at each other, and roll our eyes, feeling quite small and inadequate...and the quantities of groceries we are putting out...Well, life is just one long meal...And we wouldn't have them any other way...We love them each and every one, even if they are noisy and keep the Hood Milk Company buying more cows!

Got your cards out, your shopping done, your yarn to Nellie? Well, if so, relax, but if not, let's go...Anyway, the Christmas Season is upon us, Life, Love and Health to you all for the next year...and may the Man Upstairs help us to have Peace and all of our Boys at home this time next year!

about a Howard Johnson's. The Planning Board held that a Howard Johnson's could locate in a General Business site, and the town went along with the Planning Board.

The agreement between Glickstein and Mrs Smith was to expire on April 10, 1969, but there seems to have been an extension of time, for on June 20th the parties met in the office of an attorney. Glickstein's lawyer says that Glickstein was 'ready, willing and able' to buy, but that Mrs Smith refused to sell.

On October 30th of this year Mr. Glickstein had Mrs Smith's land and home attached for the sum of $125,000, and about the same time a suit was entered in court against Mrs Smith.

Glickstein's attorney says that his client has been greatly injured because the value of the land for which he had an agreement to buy was far greater than the agreed purchase price, while Mrs Smith's attorney, in his demurrer, points out, among other things, that the value of the land was agreed at $65,000.

The Cambridge Court, Friday, overruled Mrs Smith's demurrer. She now has to either settle with Mr Glickstein, or fight it out in court.

Deaths

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR CAPT. GEORGE HATHAWAY

Capt. George Hathaway, MC., USN, of Salem Street, was buried from St. Thomas Church, Monday, with the funeral Mass being celebrated by an old Navy friend, Monsignor Leonard A. McMahon, a retired Commander of the Chaplain Corps of the US Navy. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery, where a Navy firing squad paid last honors, as did Past Commanders Ralph Zwicker and Angus MacFeeley of the Wilmington Post of the American Legion. Msgr. McMahon read the committal prayers.

A tall and articulate man, Capt. Hathaway, although born in Boston was of old Wilmington stock, and Wilmington was his home, all his life. As a boy he lived summers in the old homestead at the corner of Salem and Woburn streets, and he built his home nearby, in which he died last Friday at the age of 88.

A graduate of Boston English High, he was a graduate of Harvard Medical College, and at the time of his death was one of the last three survivors of the Class of 1902.

Showers for Miss Karen Sevensen

Three bridal showers have recently been tendered Miss Karen Sevensen of 395 Middlesex Avenue, who will become the bride of Mr. John R. Burke of 513 Woburn St. Wilmington on Dec. 20th.

John is the son of Mr and Mrs Richard J. Burke

A personal pre-nuptial shower was given Miss Sevensen at her home on November 29th by Miss Linda Sullivan and Miss Debbie Sevensen. About 20 guests attended from Wilmington and Tewksbury. The house was decorated in a pink and cranberry color scheme, which was chosen by the bride party. Her first gift was a corsage of fall flowers which were presented by her fiancé, Mr. Burke, who was home on leave from McDill Air Force Base in Florida. Refreshments were served from an attractively appointed buffet table, graced by a decorated shower cake and shower basket favors.

The following day Miss Sevensen was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower held at the Wakefield home of the bridegroom elect's grandmother, Mrs. Josephine E. Quinn. Miss Diane Burke, sister of the bridegroom to be, assisted. Wedding bells and floral pieces were used in decorations.

Miss Sevensen was showered with rose petals from a decorated umbrella as she began to open her gifts, which had been placed in a decorated wishing well. A bride doll cake was the centerpiece on the buffet table. Forty guests attended from South Acton, Maynard, Danvers, Stoneham, Beverly, Tewksbury, Natick, Charlestown and Wakefield.

Another miscellaneous shower was given Monday evening Dec. 1 by Mrs. Helen Moore at the home of Mrs. M. C. Kobel in Wilmington. Again the first gift opened was a corsage from her fiancé. A bride doll and decorated shower cake graced the refreshment table.

Before the serving of refreshments, a prayer for the blessing and happiness of the couple was offered by Mrs. Florence Emerson on behalf of the group present. Thirty guests were present, from Wilmington.

No Meetings for Planning Board until Jan. 6

Unless there is an unexpected change, there will be no meetings of the Wilmington Planning Board until Jan. 6, 1970. The board so voted on Tuesday night. The change if any, depends on what date the Wilmington Selectmen choose for the closing of the Warrant for the annual Town Meeting of 1970.

A letter is to be written to the Board of Selectmen asking them to confirm a date of January 12 for the submission of articles. Only if the Selectmen do not confirm this date will the Planning Board meet at an earlier date than Jan. 6. The regular meeting nights are close to both the Christmas and New Year holidays.

The greater part of the Tuesday night meeting was spent in discussing possible articles for the annual meeting. A discussion with Professor Charles W. Elliot on the subject lasted from 7:30 to 9 p.m., and then there was a later discussion of several hours.

Part of the later discussion involved the previously planned article for re-zoning of land at the corner of Woburn and Lowell Sts., and of land at the corner of West and Lowell Streets. The board decided that they would not ask for rezoning if the owners still have an interest in continuing the present zoning — that is if they get letters from the owners.

Part of the discussion with Prof. Elliot:

Should there be an article which refined definitions of building materials, such as sand, gravel, etc?

Should there be an article more closely defining 'contractor's equipment'?

Both of these were proposed by the chairlady, Mrs. McKie, because of Boards of Appeals hearings during the past summer, and subsequent law suits, on the storage of sand, etc., on land near Clark Street. (The pending appeal to this lawsuit, in the Superior Court, has been withdrawn, Ed.)

William Hooper asked that there be an article which would definitely remove Truck Terminals or Motor Freight Stations from the Zoning By Law. Mrs. McKie thought this would be a good idea, saying that if someone then wanted to rezone for a trucking terminal he would have to go before the Town Meeting to do so.

Mrs. McKie seeks to have an article further defining 'front yard' distances, for homes, as being applicable to side yards, in cases where homes are fronting on several streets.

She reported that the Town Engineer hopes to have an article which would prohibit the building of more than one commercial building on any one lot in a commercial district. Professor Elliot's comment was that the 'town doesn't have the proper tools'.

Commenting on the sign regulations of Wilmington, Mrs. McKie pointed out that some of them are to be found in the Zoning By-Laws and part are to be found in the Town By Laws. She felt that for clarity they should all be together, and the board decided to ask the Selectmen how they felt about such a proposal.

Mrs. McKie read a by-law from another town which said, in effect: 'signs generally expressed as Bill Boards are prohibited'. The board was enthusiastic about the possibility of such a law, but Professor Elliot pointed out that more definition seemed to be needed.

Incinerators — the board noted the increasing use of incinerators in Wilmington, and wondered if they should ask the Board of Health for some regulations. Mrs. McKie was delegated to confer with that board.

Also discussed was the idea of a zoning regulation about the location of Club Houses. Should they be required to be in General Business zones?

After Mr. Gillis pointed out that there is currently some litigation on this subject, it was decided to ask the Town Counsel for his thoughts, before making such a proposal.

Mrs. McKie suggested that there be a redefinition of 'loading spaces' in business areas, so as to confine them to the rear of buildings.

She also wanted to know if it would be proper to incorporate the gravel regulations in the Zoning By Law. Elliot's reply to this was that it would be proper.

Mort Grant wished that there was a law that no removal of earth products could be allowed in Wilmington without a written permit of the Police Department, which would include the origin and destination of the cargo. He didn't get too much encouragement.

Flood Plain

Professor Elliot was interested in a possible Flood Plain zoning by law. He confessed that he was still puzzled by the action of the Town Meeting last year, in which Conservancy Districts had been refused.

Mrs. McKie related her conversations with the Selectmen, where they were not particularly interested, so it seemed, in 10 year or 15 year flood levels, but only were interested in areas adjacent to running streams.

Perhaps, Elliot said, the thing to do is to have the re-zoning 'step by step'.

He had a colored map that he had prepared, showing possible flood plain zonings along the various streams, by contour lines — along the Maple Meadow Brook, Mill Brook and Lubbers Brook. The essence of the agreement was that this should be able to get the approval of the Selectmen, and that the Planning Board could then try for flood plain zoning along the lesser streams later.

JUST IN TIME FOR CHRISTMAS! — The Wilmington Company of Minutemen have received their replica of a Colonial drum, such as was used on April 18, 1776 when the Wilmington Minute Men marched to the Battle of Lexington. It was made for the Wilmington company by John J. Casey of Concord, himself a Minute Man of that town.

Admiring the drum are Lt. Frank Curley and Capt. Bill Meyer. Company Sergeant Jeff Coville is the drummer. Notice the Baldwin Apple, which is the distinctive sign of the Wilmington Minute Men.

Junior wing Ray York closed out the scoring with eleven seconds to play with an 25 foot wrist shot. Dave Irwin and Steve Catalano assisting. Dana Tighe did a fine job in the nets, stopping 8 shots for the shut-out.

Have you ever enameled fur-to, here's a tip or two!

Remove all metal and wood hardware. Nothing shows a sloppy job more than paint-smeared hardware.
If the knobs are wood, remove them and paint separately, even a contrasting color. Mount them on cardboard for easy, fast spray painting.
Cover any items you can't remove with masking tape, or carefully paint around them.

Hinxman - Williamson Wedding

Miss Sharon L. Hinxman of 151 Chestnut Street Wilmington became the bride Jeffrey M. Williamson of 12 Wildwood Street on November 29th in a 3 pm ceremony at the Wilmington United Methodist Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. Hinxman of Lisbon Falls, Maine, and he is a well known professional baseball player, and pitcher in the Baltimore Orioles system, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Waugh of 12 Wildwood Street.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and the Rev. Willis Miller united the couple.

Miss Hinxman wore a floorlength gown of white chantilly lace, with an empire waist and a bow at the waistline. She had ruffle chuffed sleeves, a lace train, and an elbow length veil of chantilly with pearls and sequins, suspended from a crown, and she carried a bouquet of white cascades and mums.

The maid of honor was Miss Wendy Bradstreet of East Rochester, New Hampshire. She was gowned in a floor length lime green dress, with white velvet empire waist band, and a white velvet head veil, and carried a corsage of white and orange Colonial mums.

Miss Georgia Poszgal of Bedford Mass was the bridesmaid, and Miss Trudy White of Lisbon Falls, Maine the junior bridesmaid. The flower girls were the Misses Darlene and Shelly White, of Lisbon Falls Maine.

Olive green floorlength gowns with white velvet waistbands were worn by the bridesmaids, while the flower girls were in similar gowns of pale green.

Mr. Michael Farrell of Marcus Road North Wilmington was the best man. The ushers were James Watson of Concord, New Hampshire, and Scott Waugh of 12 Wildwood Street Wilmington.

The page was Master Douglas Hinxman of Lisbon Falls Maine, and the ring bearer was Master Frank Hinxman, also of Lisbon Falls.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Wilmington. For her gown in the reception line the mother of the bride chose a gold brocade jacket dress, while Mrs. Waugh was gowned in chiffon turquoise, with jewelry at the shoulder.

The wedding trip was to Lake Placid New York. For her going away costume the new Mrs. Williamson chose a green knit dress and jacket, trimmed with red, beige and white plaid, and wore a corsage of one yellow mum. The couple are now at home at Six Continental Court, in Woburn.

Mrs. Williamson is a graduate of Lisbon High School in Maine and of the Control Data Institute in Burlington, and is a member of an old Wilmington family. Her husband is a graduate of Wilmington High School, where he was one of the outstanding athletes, and of Springfield College, and is now a professional baseball player, and a salesman during the off season for Systems for Advanced Information in Burlington.
